

John Miller Serves as Congressional Intern in Moran's Salina Office

SALINA - Congressman Jerry Moran today announced that John Miller is serving as a congressional intern in his Salina office. Miller is a 2002 graduate of Salina High School Central.

"John's willingness to help and his ability to manage multiple tasks have been valuable to me as I work on issues important to Kansans," Moran said. "I appreciate his efforts and am pleased to provide him this opportunity."

Miller graduated from Kansas Wesleyan University (KWU) in 2006 with a bachelor's degree in Business Administration. Currently, Miller is working on a second degree in Construction Engineering Technology, at Kansas State University at Salina.

"I appreciate the opportunity to help the Congressman serve the fine people of the First District," Miller said. "The Congressman's endless devotion to helping others and making decisions in the best interest of Kansans has fueled my drive for public service."

In the office, Miller is assisting Moran with legislative and administrative duties on behalf of the people of Kansas.

Miller is the son of Bob and Linda of Salina.
